Work Safely in the Construction Industry (CPCCOHS1001A)

To work on a building site in Australia it is a requirement that everyone holds a current General Induction Card, also known as a “White Card”.

The White Card is valid for use on all construction sites in Australia.

Who is this course for?

People working or wanting to work in the Construction Industry.

What will I learn?

General Induction Training provides persons entering the construction industry with a basic knowledge of requirements under OHS laws, the common hazards and risks likely to be encountered on construction sites and how these risks should be controlled.

How am I assessed?

At the end of the course you are required to successfully complete a written assessment.

Entry requirements

There are no pre-requisites for this course.

Training in South Australia is delivered with Commonwealth Government funding and South Australian Government funding through The Department of Further Education, Employment, Science and Technology. The information given is intended as a guide. Changes may have occurred since printing. Please check with your nearest MADEC College for further queries.

To enrol and learn more contact MADEC
T: 1300 436 332 E: education@madec.edu.au W: www.madec.edu.au